HOUSE COMMITTEE SAYS LAGGING FARM INCOMES REASON FOR RECESSION

PRESIDENT TO SPEND GETTYSBURG WEEKEND

Washington (P)—President Eisenhower leaves the capital today to spend the weekend at his farm home in Gettysburg, Pa.

Mrs. Eisenhower planned to go to the farm ahead of him.

The President decided to wait until school was out in mid-afternoon so two of his grandchildren, David and Barbara, could accompany him.

Khrushchev Forms New Government

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (P)—Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko apparently will delay until next week his report to the Soviet Parliament on banning nuclear tests.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev is expected to announce his new government to Parliament at the same time.

Both events are expected at a joint session of the Council of Union and Council of Nationalities, probably Monday or Tuesday.

In his speech on banning nuclear tests Gromyko may announce that the Soviet Union, without waiting for the United States and Britain, is suspending its own H-bomb tests.

The move would be intended to overshadow President Eisenhower's invitation to foreign scientists to witness tests in the Pacific this summer to show how far the United States has advanced in reducing radioactive fallout.

The Council of Nationalities met for only four hours today and Khrushchev left an hour before the meeting ended. It will meet again Monday. Only parliamentary groups are scheduled to meet tomorrow and there are no sessions on Sunday. Thus it appeared the joint session would be pushed back to Monday or Tuesday.

The Council of Nationalities turned to discussion of Khrushchev's plans to reorganize Soviet machine and tractor stations and sell the machines to collective farms.

Also awaited was announcement of the new Council of Ministers, or Cabinet, which Khrushchev will name to replace the government which resigned along with former Premier Nikolai Bulganin. There was speculation that Bulganin would be named a deputy premier.

Khrushchev led other members of the Communist party's ruling Presidium into the Kremlin hall as the Council of Nationalities reopened the parliamentary session. Bulganin was with him.

Hoxsey Cancer Clinic Seeking To Incorporate

EBENSBURG, Pa. (P)—Cambria County Court has not set a date for acting on articles of incorporation filed by officials of the controversial Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at nearby Portage.

The articles, aimed at making the institution a non-profit corporation, were filed yesterday. Six directors were listed as incorporators. They are:

John J. Haluska, former state senator; A. A. Nelson, Cambria County judge; Samuel J. Einhorn, Johnstown; Dr. J. H. Benko, and Dr. Harry A. Stegman, both of Portage; and Dr. Harold F. Galbraith, Patton.

The American Medical Assn., has said the cancer treatment used by the clinic is worthless.

The State Justice Dept. recently accused Drs. Stegman and Galbraith of permitting operators of the clinic to profit from their osteopathic licenses. The department filed charges of unethical practice against the two doctors and asked the State Board of Osteopathic Examiners to remove their licenses.

United Refining Company Benefits Under Crude Oil Import Quota Statement

According to an announcement from the White House, as mentioned in an Associated Press dispatch carried on Page 21 of Thursday's issue, the United Refining Company of this city is one of several companies that will benefit from a crude oil import quota granted under the government's Voluntary Oil Import Program. Application for the quota had been filed last October and a public hearing was held in Washington on February 14th. The quota is for 3,000 barrels per day, beginning July 1st of this year. Although the Program is based on strictly voluntary compliance on the part of importers in the interests of national security, United Refining Company has pledged its unqualified support of government efforts to restrict the level of imports by voluntary cooperation. For a time it had been rumored that mandatory controls might be imposed, either by Act of Congress or Presidential Order since certain companies have thus far refused to cooperate with the Program. However, yesterday's announcement by President Eisenhower indicated that mandatory controls would not yet be resorted to and the voluntary basis will be continued, at least for another three months.

The necessity for control over the level of oil imports arises out of the fact that while oil production in this country is limited each month by state authorities to the estimated demand, oil produced in the Middle East or Venezuela at much lower cost has been imported in the past by the major oil companies without any limitation and has tended recently to displace domestic supplies of crude. For instance the state of Texas is now restricted to producing only eight days per month, largely as a result of the high levels of imports. President Eisenhower appointed a committee last year to study the problem, composed of the Secretaries of Commerce, Defense, Treasury, State, Interior and Labor. The committee found that excessive imports were adversely affecting the domestic oil industry and therefore posed a threat to national security since they could not be counted on in time of emergency.

In its application for a quota, the United Refining Company had contended that it was at a severe competitive disadvantage since wholesale prices in the area in which it markets are determined largely by the costs of refining petroleum products from foreign crude which is much cheaper than the domestic (Turn to Page Ten)

Quick Action Sought for Highway Bill

WASHINGTON (P)—Democratic congressional leaders pushed today for quick action on the highway construction speedup bill to try to get it to President Eisenhower's desk next week.

The Senate passed the big anti-recession measure 84-4 and immediately asked for a speedy conference with the House on it. The House may take up the request today.

The bill would pour an additional $1,800,000,000 in federal-state funds into the nation's roadbuilding program this year.

It would make available 5½ billions over-all for the roadbuilding program this year, although much of the actual spending would come later. Passage of the bill is expected to provide 88,000 new jobs this year, and its sponsors say more than 500,000 eventually may be added.

The measure also for the first time would set up federal incentives to the states to regulate billboards along the 41,000-mile superhighway network—the interstate system.

The House version of the legislation, passed two weeks ago, is much less broad than the Senate bill. It does not contain any of the increased or speeded-up allotments of the Senate bill, and does not deal with billboards.

The Senate measure, with Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) as chief sponsor, would make available $1,220,000,000 more in federal-state money for the interstate system this year than can be allotted under present law.

It also sets up a special 400-million-dollar fund for extra grants to the states for the extra road systems—the primary, farm-to-market and urban.

State to Train Troopers on Handling Outbreaks of Mobs

HARRISBURG (P)—The state is working on a plan to train state policemen how to talk mobs out of doing violence.

The plan is being developed by the State Justice Department's newly formed Civil Rights Division.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Victor H. Wright said yesterday that the department hopes to employ specialists in the field of "tension control techniques" to teach these techniques to handpicked law enforcement officers.

"By employing the correct techniques," Wright said, "you can avert head bashing before it begins by settling the matter over conference tables."

He said it also would do away with "unnecessary litigation" in some matters.

Rebels Held For Plotting Refuse Eats

By BILL GIBSON

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (P)—Thirty-six Cuban rebels from New York, charged with conspiracy to violate the U. S. Neutrality Act, continued their hunger strike in jail today. Four Ecuadorians also were accused.

"I think they'll come around," Dep. Sheriff F. H. Deven said after the men all refused breakfast. "They just think they've been deceived of their rights," he said of the fired-up group.

The Cubans went through a chow line but refused food.

The four crewmen, who did not eat last night, took breakfast.

The 36 sat listening to a minister while other inmates ate. Their leader said they last ate Wednesday when they grabbed a sandwich while preparing arms.

A Coast Guard cutter rammed their 85-foot vessel about five miles off the lower Texas coast in the Gulf of Mexico. All the New Yorkers were uninjured and heavily armed.

The vessel halted only after U.S. agents pulled alongside and boarded her. The men surrendered without resistance.

Arnoldo G. Barron, who described himself as leader of the group, said the men purchased arms and ammunition from an undisclosed source in the United States with $20,000 which they had saved over a period of months.

He said he was a friend of Cuban rebel leader Fidel Castro and that the United States had no right to "seize his men and weapons."

The arms were those "with which we were going to defend freedom—the freedom not only of Cuba but of the world," Barron said.

The group protested by going on a hunger strike. All refused food and coffee ordered to prisoners in Cameron County jail last night.

Barron claimed the United States was shipping arms to Cuban President Batista and that the fast would last until such shipments were halted. He said none of the group had eaten since Wednesday night.

Seven Dead of Suffocation in Rochester, N. Y.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (P)—Seven persons, three of them children, died of suffocation early today when a fire trapped them in an apartment house.

Fire Capt. Joseph J. Nalore said the fire apparently broke out on the front porch of the 2½-story building near downtown Rochester and swept upward, burning the front of the house and cutting off all exits.

Six of the dead were Puerto Ricans.

Three persons were hospitalized. Neighbors reported seeing occupants jumping from the second floor.

The Monroe County morgue tentatively identified the dead as: Mrs. Mercedes Pino Garcia, her daughter Wanda, 2, and her son Juan, 3; Juan Colon, 29; Mrs. Aida Orengo, 21, and her son, Luis Feliciano, 5, and Harry Talford, 62.

James J. Ryan Succumbs To Injuries He Received While Riding in Taxicab

James Joseph Ryan, an engineer at Struthers-Wells Corporation, died about 7 a. m. today in St. Carmel Mercy Hospital, Detroit, from injuries received in a taxicab accident there Wednesday. He was 29.

According to the Fatality Squad of Detroit's Accident Prevention Bureau, Mr. Ryan was traveling on John R. Street in a Checker taxicab about 2:35 p. m. At the intersection of Seven Mile Road, the right side of the cab was struck, sending the vehicle careening into the far lane where it was struck by a second car going in the opposite direction on John R. Street.

Doors of the taxi were flung open by the impact and the victim was thrown to the street. Mr. Ryan was rushed to the hospital suffering a fractured pelvis, possible skull fracture and severe internal injuries and bleeding.

Vincent Moxie, a 74-year-old Detroit man who precipitated the accident when he swung onto John R. street from Seven Mile Road, fled from the crash scene but his front license plate had been jarred off.

William Harvey of the Fatal Squad said in Detroit today that charges of manslaughter and leaving the scene of the accident are pending against the man. Harvey said the man "almost passed out" this morning when being questioned at the station.

Driver of the second car which struck the cab as it swung around on the street was Betty Freeman, 28, of Detroit. No other injury report was immediately available.

Mr. Ryan had been in Detroit on a business trip and was expected home Wednesday night. Internal injuries were believed to have been the cause of death.

His wife, the former Corinne Culbertson, whom he married Oct. 3, 1953, was at the bedside in Detroit along with the victim's parents who reside in Covington, Ky.

The body will arrive in Warren Saturday night. Funeral details are incomplete pending arrival of the family this evening. Peterson Funeral Home will announce plans.

James Joseph Ryan was born in Covington, October 19, 1928, and came to Warren six years ago as a DuPont inspector. He was also employed by Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron Company for some time prior to his work as an engineer for Struthers-Wells Corporation.

Mr. Ryan was a graduate of University of Kentucky and the University of Cincinnati, and served with the Paratroopers following World War II. He was a faithful member of Holy Redeemer church; also a member of the American Society of Engineers and had been serving as president of Warren Industrial Management Association. He was highly regarded in business and social endeavors.

Besides his wife, who resides at 206 Connecticut Avenue, Warren, he leaves two children, Patricia and Mary Beth, at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan, Covington, Ky.; a brother and two sisters.

Hearing Opens on Plans to Extend Jobless Benefits

WASHINGTON (P)—House Democrats opened the door today to consideration of emergency unemployment compensation benefits going far beyond proposals sent to Congress by President Eisenhower.

As the House Ways and Means Committee began three days of hearings on expanded federal unemployment relief, Chairman Mills (D-Ark.) said the committee would consider plans to pay benefits to jobless workers who are not now entitled to benefits of any kind.

This would apply mainly to farm workers, employees of little firms exempted from the federal-state unemployment insurance program, and other types of employment not now covered. Of the 5,200,000 estimated unemployed in mid-February, about two million are not covered by state laws and are ineligible for any benefits.

Some members of Congress, among them Rep. McCarthy (D-Minn.) and Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.), also want to write permanent revisions into the unemployment compensation program including uniform state standards and wider coverage.

McGonigle And Walker Visit in Pittsburgh Area

PITTSBURGH (P)—Promising to "take the profits out of politics," Arthur T. McGonigle today carried his Republican gubernatorial campaign into this industrial center.

McGonigle and his running mate for lieutenant-governor, John M. Walker of Pittsburgh, began a series of "person to person" chats. They met scores of persons, talking to them individually and in groups.

Today's campaigning is to be followed by similar sessions tomorrow as the windup to a week's tour of western Pennsylvania counties.

Joining the party today were U.S. Rep. Hugh Scott of Philadelphia, the GOP organization candidate for U.S. senate, and Andrew J. Gleason of Cambria County, who is seeking the nomination for secretary of internal affairs.

In a speech at Mercer last night McGonigle promised a state administration that will "take the profits out of politics."

In Harrisburg, Sen. Rowland B. Mahany (Crawford) said he thinks Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom should be inactive during the primary campaign.

Mahany, Senate GOP leader, is running for the party nomination for lieutenant governor in opposition to the organization ticket.

Dapper Mickey Cohen In Court With Shiner

LOS ANGELES (P)—Dapper Mickey Cohen is back in the courts again, this time sporting a very black eye.

The round gambler-turned-forist was arraigned yesterday on a complaint that he assaulted a 220-pound federal narcotics officer.

Howard Chappell, head of the Federal Narcotics Bureau here, said Cohen came into his office Wednesday and charged that federal officers were trying to frame him on a narcotics charge. Chappell denied this.

After some punches were thrown, Chappell told police, "I then took him under control."

Chappell has scratches on his hands and wrists, Cohen a shiner and puffed lips.

U.S. Commissioner Theodore Hocke freed Cohen on $1,500 bail and set preliminary hearing for April 18.

After some punches were thrown, Chappell told police, "I then took him under control."

18 MEN DIE IN MID-AIR PLANE CRASH

BRIDGEPORT, Tex. (P)—Two Air Force planes rammed together at dusk yesterday and the crippled craft fell "like flakes of sheet iron." All 18 servicemen aboard died.

In a strange turn of the cards, the planes apparently were seeking greater visibility and safety by dipping below an overcast.

They were so low the occupants had no chance to parachute.

One was a huge C124 Globemaster based at Hill Air Force Base, Salt Lake City, Utah.

The other was a C119 cargo plane based at Carswell Air Force Base, the great Strategic Air Command installation at Fort Worth, 45 miles southeast of here.

The Globemaster carried a crew of 10, and five passengers picked up at Kelly Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. The C119's crew numbered three.

The Globemaster was en route from Kelly Air Force Base, San Antonio, to Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma City.

The C119 took off from Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Tex., for Carswell AFB. The planes fell within about 600 yards of each other in rugged scrub oak country cut by ravines and gullies.

The C124 burned fiercely. Pools of molten metal glimmered around the wreckage. The C119 did not burn.

Bill Carlton, Bridgeport, saw the falling wreckage from his car.

"It looked like great big flakes of sheet iron falling. You couldn't tell it was a plane," he said.

C. L. Hill, also of Bridgeport, said, "The plane coming from the south hit the wing of the one from the east the C124."

Hill said the C119 "fell straight down" but that the C124 "came on and it looked like he tried to pull out. Finally it came to pieces on him."

Doyle Hood, a Bridgeport High School athletic coach, said an explosion occurred in one plane.

The C119 struck a plowed field, missing W. J. Mann by only a few feet. It ricocheted into a wooded area. Mann was plowing with a tractor.

Composer of St. Louis Blues Dies Of Complications

NEW YORK (P)—W. C. Handy, 84-year-old composer of "The St. Louis Blues" and other jazz classics, died today at Sydenham Hospital.

The blind Negro song writer was taken to the hospital Sunday night from his Yonkers, N.Y., home. He had been under treatment for pneumonia and complications.

At his bedside when he died were his wife, two sons, William Jr. and Wier; a brother, Charles; a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Lewis; and a grandson, William Handy III. The children are by Handy's late first wife. He married Mrs. Irma Louise Logan when he was 81.

Handy suffered a stroke about three years ago and had been confined, with rare exceptions, to his suburban home since.

He had hoped to fly to St. Louis April 7 for the premiere of the movie "St. Louis Blues," the story of his life.

Democratic Candidate Attends Rally in York

YORK, Pa. (P)—David L. Lawrence has put in a bid for the support of businessmen in opening the Democratic organization's 1958 primary election campaign.

Speaking to a party gathering of 1,400 at a Roosevelt Day dinner here last night, the Pittsburgh mayor—the organization choice for the gubernatorial nomination—urged business leaders to drop "automatic support" of Republican candidates.

Neither Lawrence nor Leader referred directly to the gubernatorial candidacy of Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furrman, who has attacked the organization ticket as "hand-picked."

Columbia, not too far from the Hershey Sports Arena, also will send a big cheering delegation.

Columbia and Wampum In Championship Game

HERSHEY, Pa. (P)—Columbia, Lancaster County, and Wampum, Lawrence County, meet tonight for the Class B scholastic PIAA basketball championship.

Wampum fans gave the team a big sendoff yesterday at the western Pennsylvania town and some 1,200 hometown fans will see the game.

Sidelights on Importance of The Reciprocal Trade Act

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says letting the administration's international trade program lapse would jeopardize the jobs of many Americans and build up the "deadly peril" of communism abroad.

It also would mean a return "to the law of the jungle in trade relations between nations," the President said last night in addressing a bipartisan dinner here and a coast-to-coast television-radio audience.

Eisenhower plugged hard for his request that Congress extend the Reciprocal Trade Act for five years. He also wants authority to cut tariffs as much as 25 per cent.

The program faces rough going at the Capitol and is under fire too from some businessmen — 100 of whom staged an opposition rally in Washington.

The 1,200 diners Eisenhower addressed gave him warm ovations at the start and conclusion of his talk and interrupted him seven times with applause.

The dinner, sponsored by 128 organizations backing the administration program, climaxed a day-long conference at which Democratic and Republican leaders joined Eisenhower in calling trade extension vital to United States interests at home and abroad.

Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the Democratic nominee for president, led the list of Democrats providing a bipartisan touch.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), in a speech read for him because he had a conflicting engagement out of town, sounded a note similar to Eisenhower's in saying the Soviet challenge to the free world in economic competition is "unrelenting and deadly."

Rayburn added: "It will profit us nothing if we gain the moon and lose the earth to the Russians."

The President hit hard at both the global and the home front aspects of the trade program.

Alluding to the U.S. business slump, he said: "World trade makes jobs for at least 4½ million American workers. At a time of slack in the economy like the present, these jobs should not be placed in jeopardy by crippling our trade program."

Rejection of the program, he added, would "destroy far more jobs and job opportunities than it could possibly preserve."

As for the danger from communism, Eisenhower said the Kremlin is seeking to lure developing free nations into a "spider web" through economic penetration. The great goal of the Reds, the President added, is "economic encirclement of the United States."

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW (AP News Analyst)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's lost a pen-pal, Nikita Khrushchev lost a traveling companion, and Prime Minister Bulganin lost a job.

With another full-blown one-man dictatorship replacing the Soviet Union's vaunted collective leadership, the future is anyone's guess.

What happened yesterday — when Communist party boss Khrushchev bounced Bulganin and became prime minister too — was simply political realism. The party ran the Soviet Union. Khrushchev ran the party and the country. So Khrushchev became boss of everything in name as well as in fact.

The question is: Why did he have to bounce Bulganin at all? Bulganin was only window dressing. He didn't have a shred of Khrushchev's power. He looked like an oversized Santa Claus who made a genial traveling companion for Khrushchev on his frequent trips abroad.

It's possible Khrushchev — playing the role of world peacemaker — wants to make some sudden and dramatic proposals that will have a greater appearance of newness and a break with the past if the new boss man is doing the talking instead of talking through his Charley McCarthy, Bulganin.

In the world's mind all Soviet policies and proposals so far have had to be identified with both Bulganin and Khrushchev. Bulganin, meanwhile, may drop back into a deputy premier's spot, with nothing to do. There are, however, other possible courses Khrushchev can take.

For the time being he may continue his policy of sweet reasonableness and peaceful intentions, but switch it when he feels the Soviet Union has enough muscle not to be so peaceful. The Soviet Union still isn't in a position to outmatch this country thoroughly in a military way. It's trying hard. If it succeeds Khrushchev may drop his trying-to-get-along tactics for threats and intimidation. He doesn't have a lot of time to wait. He's 64. But the Soviet Union is moving fast. So is Khrushchev, and has been since the old dictator, Stalin, died in 1953.

For a while after Stalin's death the Soviet Union supposedly was run by the collective leadership of his heirs. One by one Khrushchev got the most important of them — at least those who didn't agree with him or might have been a threat to his ultimate seizure of power — out of the way.

But Khrushchev years ago broke away from the rigidity of Stalin and, although a thorough Communist, has been far more flexible in both domestic and foreign affairs than the old tyrant.

If, in the five years since Stalin died, the Soviet Union can be said to have moved in any direction it was towards the right a little bit. It wouldn't be surprising if it moved more that way.

It will be increasingly difficult in a highly industrialized and educated society — such as the Soviet Union is striving mightily to be — to retain the rigidity imposed on the country by Stalin when it was still trying to get on its feet and illiteracy was the rule and not the exception.

In time it seems likely the educated Soviets — the scientists, engineers and managers — will whittle away at the absolute party dictatorship and demand more say in the government. It may not turn out to be the kind of democracy this country has.

But the Soviet Union will have to change since nations, like animals, are in the stream of evolution. The best this country can hope is that the Soviet evolution will take a turn further to the right. In the meantime the Western countries, because of their own evolution and economic pressures, may turn more to the left.

Latest Kinsey Report Has Report on Abortion Survey

NEW YORK (AP) — The most frequent patron of the abortionist is the wife — not the single girl, divorcee or widow — says the latest Kinsey Institute report.

"Of all pregnancies among married women, only 56 per cent result in the birth of a child, 17 per cent end in miscarriage, and 17 per cent in abortions," the current issue of McCall's magazine said in an article on the report.

Other findings:
Almost three out of four women no longer married — widowed, divorced or separated — continued to have sexual relations.

Today's young wives are having fewer abortions than their mothers did at the same age.

Miscarriage is more common than generally realized.

The article, the second in a series of two on the Kinsey Report, "Pregnancy, Birth and Abortion," deals with wives, divorcees and widows. The first article on the report dealt with single girls.

The sampling taken by the institute was derived from interviews with 5,293 white women — part of the same group used for the 1953 study on sexual behavior of American females.

The magazine noted that the group interviewed contained a high proportion of women of the upper 20 per cent in educational background and social standing, and that there was a high proportion of women from the Northeast and from urban areas.

Women from rural areas, Roman Catholics and women with only grade-school educations made up a relatively small number in the sampled group.

Basketball Court For Farm Show Arena Proposed

HARRISBURG (AP) — The long-sidetracked proposal to provide facilities for basketball at the State Farm Show Arena appeared to be highballing today.

The General State Authority yesterday agreed to work with the State Agriculture Department on a proposal that the GSA provide funds for construction of a portable floor and other facilities needed to make the 8,000-seat arena available for basketball.

It set a $100,000 ceiling on any construction, but Dr. William L. Henning, secretary of agriculture, estimated minimum facilities could be provided for $60,000.

Henning had gone to the GSA for help, claiming that the Farm Show Commission's budget did not allow for the facilities.

A letter to the GSA from J. B. Shollenberger, president of Hershey Estates, expressing opposition to the plan was made public. He said the Hershey Arena "should not have to compete with the state" for the basketball attractions. Hershey is about 15 miles east of here.

However, Gov. Leader, chairman of the GSA, said the state's PIAA basketball playoffs, which are expected to make the most use of any facilities at the Farm Show Building, are "not a private function." The governor said he favors the plan for the Farm Show Arena.

Teeners Overlook Key to Dream

Every teen-ager should form the important habit of eating for beauty and health. For no cosmetics can hide the lack of sound nutrition. Poor food habits show up in stringy hair, brittle nails, bad skin and eyes that never sparkle. This teen-ager (left) knows that at least three glasses of milk a day are essential for good looks. Here, she sips one glass between meals. She starts her day (center) with a well-rounded breakfast which includes grapefruit, cereal, bacon and eggs, toast and milk. Teen-agers love candy and a small amount of it is fine. This gal (right) has hers at the end of a meal, never between or before meals. In fact, she confines her nibbling between meals to fresh fruit and milk.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

EVERY young girl dreams about the things she wants most from life. And there's little doubt that beauty ranks high on the list.

There's a lot of wisdom in that wish, too, for beauty so often is an important steppingstone to other ambitions.

Yet there are some teen-agers who take the wrong road on their approach to beauty through lack of intelligent thinking. They'll spend hours experimenting with countless cosmetics and new hair styles. They'll run themselves ragged to get all the surface fixings and trimmings, and never know that they're neglecting the basis of true beauty—good health. Expert handling of cosmetics and good clothes sense will improve anyone's appearance. But real beauty must come from within.

If you're serious about becoming more beautiful, you'll eat for beauty. Knowing the kind of food your body needs to function properly can result in clear skin, sparkling eyes and shining hair. In fact, proper nutrition is so important for teen-agers that a special session on food for young people will be featured by the National Food Conference in Washington.

First of all, never skip breakfast. A quarter to a third of your nutritional requirements should be met at breakfast and, if omitted, nutrition experts warn that the lack cannot be healthfully made up later in the day.

You need milk or milk products at every meal to develop healthy teeth and nails and the strong bone framework which will give you good posture, one of the most important beauty assets you can attain.

Proteins, too, should be included in every meal, for they supply the vitality that is the fourth dimension of beauty. At least once each day you should have bread, cereal, citrus fruit and green vegetables, for they contain the vitamins and minerals that help you resist infection. They help to keep your skin and eyes clear, too.

Round out your diet with butter and sweet foods for energy, but if you're smart, you'll nibble sweets after your meals and not before.

Never forget that vibrant beauty is first of all a product of good health. And if you don't strive for it, you aren't giving either your cosmetics or your carefully chosen wardrobe a fair chance to do their best for you.

Ruth Millett

Law of Jungle Rules When Gals Gather for Gabfest

"ONLY YOU can answer these questions," says a pamphlet advertising a course in better speech.

So, of course, I set about reading and answering the questions. I was doing pretty well, too, until I came to this one: "In conversation, do people break in and interrupt you, or do they always let you finish what you are saying?"

Do they mean when I'm talking to men? Or to women? It makes a big difference. Men nearly always let you finish a sentence. Women almost never do.

Take my sewing club, for example. I've belonged to it for years. We are a small group and we are all fond of each other.

But do we ever let anyone finish a story without interrupting? Of course not. We all want to talk. And we all want to have our say on every "—". So we interrupt. We raise our voices to get a word in. Our conversation becomes a verbal tug of war.

SURVIVAL OF THE QUICKEST

If you can grab the advantage you do. Anyone sitting back waiting for a lull in the conversation in order to have her say might as well go home.

That's how it is when a bunch of women get together. Everybody wants to talk and nobody really wants to listen. So you have to interrupt if you want to get in your own two cents' worth. There's just one way of holding the floor when you are with a group of women. And speech lessons won't help you at all.

The only way you can make other women listen without interrupting until you've had your say is to know a piece of gossip not another soul in the crowd has heard.

And that, come to think of it, may be the reason why women enjoy spreading gossip. A nice bit of scandal gives them a rare opportunity to talk without being interrupted.

DR. LEE DE FOREST, VACUUM TUBE INVENTOR PRAISES HEARING AID

Lee de Forest, who made modern radio and television possible through his invention of the vacuum tube fifty years ago, recently lauded high praise on a revolutionary new hearing device called "The Listener." "It is," Dr. de Forest said, "without question the finest hearing aid I have ever worn. Nothing compares with it for the quality of hearing it gives."

Commenting further, Dr. de Forest continued: "The advantage of ear-level hearing and the elimination of irritating clothing noises make 'The Listener' a real pleasure to wear. In fact, it overcomes all the objections I previously had to wearing a hearing aid."

So great has been the interest in this remarkable new electronic hearing achievement, the makers have prepared an illustrated report outlining in detail how it functions. Those interested may obtain a free copy from

The Mature Parent

Child Needs Time to Learn That Sharing Is Not Losing

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

IN the back yard an old grapefruit skin had fallen out of the incinerator. It was speckled with coffee grounds.

Steven found it very attractive. Picking it up, he first squashed it against his face, then gave it several exploratory licks. Apparently these two-year-old tests confirmed his belief that he'd discovered a treasure. He was delightedly exploring it again with his tongue when his mother appeared.

She hastily removed the treasure. Throwing it back into the incinerator, she said, "No, no—nasty!" Then while Steven roared his sorrow, she bore him into the house to wash him clean of possible germs.

This kind of thing is constantly happening to toddlers.

WE can't help it happening. The toddler's world is filled with old fruit skins, cigar butts, sharp sticks and other objects which seem as desirable to him as they seem undesirable to us. We have to say, "No—give it to Mommy."

The point is, no matter how kindly we say it, the toddler's experience is largely one of disappearing property. His acquiring of new, delightful possessions is always getting involved with their surrender and disappearance.

It is this toddler experience that makes it so hard for older children to share their belongings. They're just not able to be sure that they will regain possession of them.

SO we are foolish to reprimand the four-year-old who screams when a guest grabs her doll buggy. Indeed, we are pretty arbitrary to reproach the seven-year-old for refusing to lend his conductor's cap to his little brother.

It takes quite a while to outgrow the toddler's vivid memory of disappearing property.

So, what property-defensive youngsters need is not moral demand but time—time to accumulate many reassuring experiences of their property's stability.

As the four-year-old discovers that her doll buggy is here to stay, she becomes less apprehensive about the loss of other belongings. As the seven-year-old learns that he really controls the disposal of his conductor's cap, he begins to lose his need to assert control of his roller skates, crayons and wave pistol.

But these developments take time, time, time.

She Begins Her Good Will Tour

The 1958 Maid of Cotton is pretty, red-haired Jean Carter of Atlanta. She will visit the United States, Canada and Europe in a six-month tour with an all-cotton wardrobe. Here, she wears a voile dress for late day (left) by Nat Kaplan. Bodice and skirt are embroidered with snowflakes and lightly touched with chalk beads. Easy silhouette is typified by Benham suit (center) that's really a slim sheath paired with short jacket. Slim evening dress (right) is floral-printed cotton with all-over sequin embroidery. This is a Celia Phillips design.

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — This year I had a hand in picking the 1958 Maid of Cotton. As chairman of the judges, I traveled to Memphis to aid in the selection of the girl who is about to embark on a six-month good will tour for cotton.

Red-haired Jean Carter of Atlanta, Ga., is beautiful, of course. But, in addition, she is an honor student at college and active in campus affairs. A poised and charming girl, she now has the job of displaying cotton fashions to their best advantage, both in this country and in Europe.

Her American wardrobe was created by 42 designers. It includes suits, coats, daytime dresses, sportswear, cocktail clothes and evening dresses. Accessories, too, are done in cotton.

The entire collection of cotton fashions sparkled with brilliant color. Red was used for daytime dresses and for evening, too. Orange and fuchsia, seemingly a difficult color combination, teamed up in a carnation print for sportswear. Shades of pink and red appeared in another print and pink and green were used together for still another sports outfit.

A whole group of sheer cottons pointed up the importance of the fabric for evening wear. A date dress in sheer blue voile had lavish appliques of beaded lace flowers. Another party dress in pale green printed cotton chiffon had trim of dark green velvet.

One whole group of summer cottons was done in sea and sky colors of blue, green and white. These included sports, daytime and evening fashions.

1957 Plates Will Be Outlawed After Midnight Monday

A dispatch from Harrisburg today says the State Motor Vehicle Bureau has announced it expects all car owners who have returned their applications for new license tags to have their plates in hand in time for next Monday's deadline.

The old plates are no good after midnight Monday.

In response to reports yesterday that many motorists have complained of a delay in receiving their new plates, a bureau spokesman said:

"Every application that has been received has been processed and the plates are on their way. We see no reason why all the plates should not be in the hands of the car owners in time for the deadline."

He added that the bureau, beginning last night, is now sending all plates to the larger cities by first class mail, rather than fourth class mail, as it had been doing.

SEASONAL HAZARDS ARRIVE WITH SPRING

With spring comes two seasonal hazards. A pair of natural resources, children and woodlands, are in double jeopardy. Careless drivers can kill a child, fire carelessness can erase a forest.

Police and forestry department officials have asked all to use double caution. Hordes of children are pouring back on the streets, freshening spring winds are deceptively mild.

Ball Players To Hold Meeting at YM Tuesday Night

Whether or not there will be a strong Warren Elk baseball team to represent the State Hospital for Saturday games may depend upon the interest shown by eligible players at a meeting to be held next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the YMCA.

This information was given out in an interview with "Diz" Hines, veteran manager this morning. He attended a meeting of the Intercity League recently at Jamestown, N. Y., and says that the team will be the local representative in that league.

Jim Sharp, recreation director of Jamestown called the sports department of the Times-Mirror this morning to discuss plans for the league. He said that seven teams are already assured, and two others are seeking the eighth berth which will be decided at a meeting in Jamestown April 7, at the Moose Club in that city.

Hines has been assured that the Warren team will be able to play each Saturday on the State Hospital diamond with the possible exception of one day in August, which is already booked. The team would have quite a few games under the lights at Jamestown Municipal stadium. Other teams in the league are the Dunkirk Kochs, Ludlow Wildcats, Art Metals, Marlboro-Rockwells, Starlite Cafe and Jamestown Moose, along with Warren and the eighth to be selected, making a compact league without requiring too much traveling expenses.

Hines urges that every player in the Warren area desiring to try out for the Elks team make it a point to be at the meeting Tuesday evening, and if detained contact him, or the Sports Department of the Times-Mirror. He emphasizes that it is absolutely essential for him to have an idea about the number of qualified players he can depend upon.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

BETHPAGE, JORDAN.—A kindly Arab farmer loaned me his donkey to ride from the point where Christ began his Palm Sunday entry into Jerusalem.

The crisp clear air was filled with bird calls. Clouds streaked the soft blue sky. The road gradually climbed to the Mt. of Olives. I passed a shepherd grazing his sheep. Then the crest! With its sweeping view of the old walled city across the valley of Jehoshaphat. Pigeons arched in the sky.

The Roman road down was steep, so steep that it was terraced into giant, white rocky steps spotted with green moss. The little donkey felt for his footing. A cat peered at us. Pine, cypress, olive and orange trees dotted the slopes. There was the whir of wings as birds took flight. High ahead of us was the golden gate.

The multitudes had gathered to see Him and to shout: "Hosanna; Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord." (Mark 11:9)

Bible Words for Today

PSALM 139:7—"Whither shall I go from thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from thy presence?"
PSALM 23:6—"Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life." (King James Version)

***

A father, writing to a son serving overseas in the armed forces, closed his letter with these words: "Remember, my son, no one is ever far from God."

It seems that this faith must have been in the mind of the psalmist when he put down these words: "Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?" For these verses are not saying that God is a superpoliceman who keeps us under His eye. Rather they tell us that man cannot go where God is not.

Let faith be the sustaining factor in the living of these days, assuring us that as God has been with us in all our yesterdays, He will be with us in our unknown tomorrows. As an old saint of God put it: "O Lord, help me to understand that you won't let anything come my way that you and I can't handle together."

The man of faith finds strength and courage even in life's darkest hours because God is with him. "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life..."

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—All hands are anxious to believe that President Eisenhower is right in saying we may be seeing the worst of the recession right now.

That things are worse today than they were just a short time back is easy to prove. Ask any of the five to six million persons out of work, if you doubt it.

That the bottom is near or at hand isn't easy to prove yet. The statistics on that are still to come.

That the economy in general will get impressively better soon is difficult for many persons to foresee—it calls rather for an act of faith.

But a few signs that the slump is nearing bottom—fall as they may later prove to be—can be found.

While most barometers of business still point to stormy weather, a few respected ones are wavering toward the fair side.

The one most businessmen greet with the greatest cheer today is the report from Cleveland by the National Machine Tool Builders Assn. that new orders may top those in February, when they rose 18 per cent above January and 23 per cent above December. The final 1957 month saw orders sink to an eight-year low.

They are still 61 per cent behind last year's figure, but the pickup conceivably could spell the end in the long decline in an industry whose up-and-down swings often foretell those of the general economy's pendulum.

Another indicator of business thinking and planning are bank loans to business. For some time they have been weak. But the latest figures show a rise of more than half a billion dollars. Businessmen put little stock in the week-to-week swings—but at least they can hope that the pickup shows reviving confidence.

The banks themselves are expected to add bright notes to the

RADIO and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The days of the French Revolution were vividly brought to life on television last night when Show of the Month presented "A Tale of Two Cities" by Charles Dickens on CBS-TV.

Director Robert Mulligan displayed remarkable constructive art in bringing a novel of such large scope to the small home screen. It was one of the memorable shows of this TV season.

In "A Tale of Two Cities" Dickens deliberately departed from his customary emphasis on character to tell a story of historical background with numerous incidents and big scenes. But an excellent television adaptation by Michael Dyne enabled a large cast to develop some fine characterizations. There were outstanding performances by James Donald as Sydney Carton, Eric Portman as Dr. Manette, Rosemary Harris as Lucie Manette, Agnes Moorehead as Madame Defarge, Walter Fitzgerald as Jarvis Lorry and Gracie Fields as Miss Pross.

The theme of a group of people caught up in an 18th century revolution might have failed to hold a 20th century audience if the terror of the Revolution had not been splashed so vividly on the television screen.

BOYLE'S COMMENT

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sidewalk scrawls of a Pavement Plato:

Some people say that, if they had the chance, they'd like to live their life all over again—repeating it step by step.

Such people do not impress me as being either happy or wise. They do not even impress me as being human. They impress me as being merely vocal phonograph records, too dizzy from their circular rut to make common sense.

A man who insists that, if he had it to do all over again, he'd do it exactly the same way is either a perfect saint, a simpleton or an insufferable egotist.

The only real fun in contemplating a second life on earth lies in figuring how you would make it different. And if I had this chance, believe me, there'd be some changes made.

For example: I'd inherit money. A man born to money is like a duck in a pond. But a man who has to fight for wealth is like a hen in a brook. He is always out of his element. I would learn to play at least two instruments, so I could make music of my own.

I would not quit the Boy Scouts at 13 just because a pretty red-haired girl moved into the house across the street. If you stay with the Scouts you will learn to find your way out of any forest. But once you get interested in red-haired girls you never get out of the woods.

I would learn to play bridge, enjoy caviar and become an authority on the mystique of martini making.

I would make it an inflexible rule to get eight hours sleep every night and always get to bed by midnight.

Finally, I would build bigger daydreams while young. The greatest curse of middle age and old age is to be the prisoner of small, nonelastic daydreams.

If I did all these things, my second life might not be any better than my present one, but at least it would be different—and I'd know the difference. That's something.

And how would you re-live yours?

Dear Editor:
Regarding the building of the Kinzua Dam I am not so sure that this is going to solve the flooding of Warren as you all will see later on when the dam is built, if it is built.

I personally believe the Conewango creek is the rascal that we should try and harness.

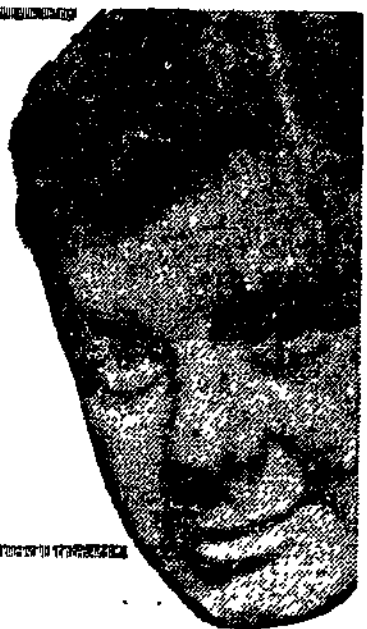

Just try and visualize the vast territory that drains into the Conewango creek from Jamestown to Warren and I think you will come up with the answer to the problem of and here's how I've got it figured out"

After making this statement to his studio audience, Arthur Godfrey said: "I've been using Niagara Cyclo-Massage® these past few weeks . . . and I do believe it helps me to relieve tension and nervous fatigue due to overwork and over-exercise. It also helps me sleep better . . . and I think it does these things through increased circulation of blood. Now I don't suffer from arthritis, but they tell me that Niagara Cyclo-Massage® is terrific for chronic arthritis pains, too."

Clinical research in leading institutions has repeatedly proved the accuracy of Mr. Godfrey's statements. And many thousands of individual users have discovered for themselves the exceptional health-promoting benefits made possible through Niagara. An amazing, drugless "miracle of science," it provides soothing, gently penetrating massage action that fills one with a wonderful feeling of well being.

Earnings are NECESSARY but are not guaranteed!

The fact that we are the only telephone company in the areas we serve does not guarantee us a satisfactory level of earnings.

It is up to us:

To operate economically

To insure an adequate return on the money the public invests in the business

To help contribute to a healthy economy by our local purchases and payroll

To have telephone facilities available to meet your community's growth

To obtain and keep good employees

To develop new markets and products to meet changing customer needs

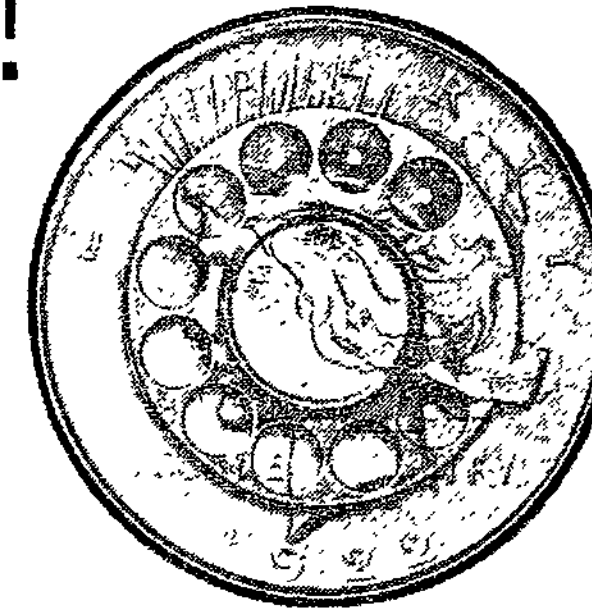

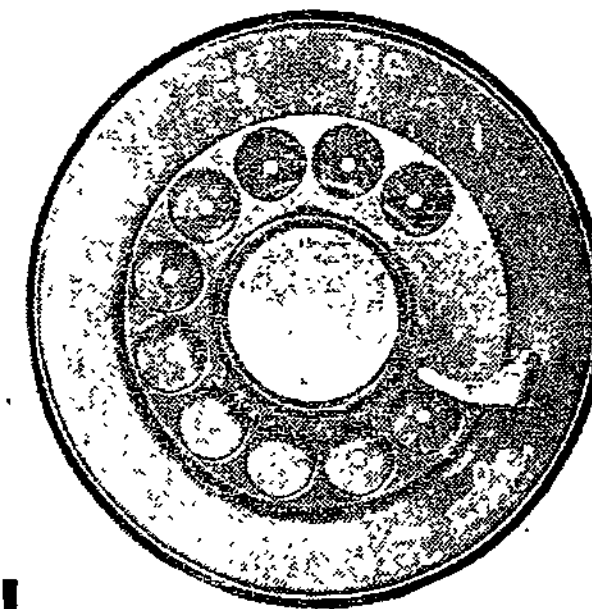

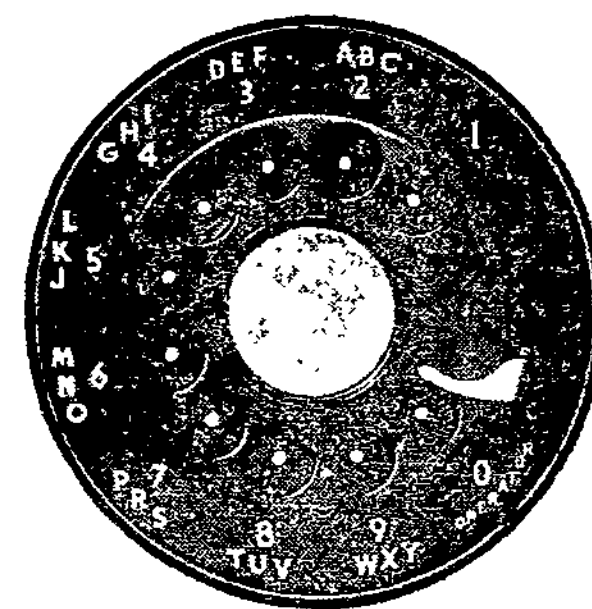

And, most important of all, it is up to us to see that you and your fellow citizens in Pennsylvania continue to have good telephone service.

No one guarantees any of these things.

They will come only as a result of sound management, good organization and equipment—together with earnings that enable us to help meet expansion requirements and to pay a reasonable dividend.

PRISCILLA'S POP

By AL VERMEER

why Warren is flooded when we have spring floods and flash floods.

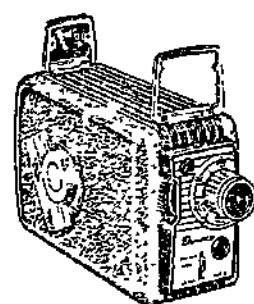

Regarding the Indian situation as far as their land is concerned I should think the United States government should be ashamed of themselves to take the land away from them because some large industrialist or capitalistic politician wants it for recreation purposes. After all we are a nation that should keep our promises when we make a treaty with some one.

I personally think that the poor Indians have been persecuted long enough. After all they are the true Americans, not us foreigners. Let us treat them as human beings. Just because their skin is red we cannot condemn them. I personally think that the river should be channeled deeper from the Glade bridge to the Penelec Electric station. This would alleviate the flood problem as far as Warren is concerned, I'm sure.

Thank you very much Editor.
Yours truly,

crude previously available to the refinery. The company further stated that if a quota were granted it would be used to meet increased refinery requirements and would not displace domestic crude oil now being purchased by the company. Heretofore more than half of the crude processed by major oil companies on the East Coast has been of foreign origin and the products therefrom are transported by pipe line into United's marketing territory. Yesterday's announcement will have the effect of reducing import quotas for the major oil companies and permitting independent refiners such as United to share in the benefits of lower cost raw materials.

The text of a notice received late yesterday by Harry A. Logan, Jr., president of United, from Captain M. V. Carson, Jr., administrator of the Voluntary Oil Import Program in the Department of the Interior, is as follows:

"In accordance with the recommendations contained in the supplementary report of the President's Special Committee to investigate crude oil imports, approved by the President on March 25, 1958, recommended crude oil import allocation of 3,000 barrels per day under the Voluntary Oil Import Program has been approved for your company, effective July 1, 1958.

"It was unanimously agreed by the Special Committee that this allocation would allow your company to enter and share in the United States market in a reasonable manner. A copy of the supplementary report is being mailed under separate cover."

Williamsburg After First Class C Title

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (AP)—Williamsburg High School of Dist. 6 is looking for its first PIAA Class C basketball championship and Jenkintown of Dist. 1 is seeking its fourth state title as the two clash tonight at Juniata College here.

Jenkintown won the title in 1952, 1953 and 1956, the later year defeating Williamsburg 79-66. Williamsburg was in the state final last year, too, but lost 64-63 to Fleetwood of Dist. 3.

Williamsburg has a 23-1 record, including a 15-game winning streak.

Jenkintown has an 18-6 season mark.

Tattooed Cop Killer Is Nabbed by the FBI

Baltimore (AP)—A tattooed cop killer who posed as a male nurse was nabbed by the FBI last night, only a few hours after he made the 10 Most Wanted list.

Eugene R. McCracken, 43, was unarmed and gave up without resistance when authorities acted on the tip of an alert citizen who saw the fugitive's picture in the Baltimore News-Post.

McCracken, described earlier as a "dangerous felon," had been going by the name of Richard George Kirkman. He had worked as a male nurse for an invalid doctor for several months.

McCracken was convicted of slaying John Mills, a Kingsport, Tenn., police officer in 1940. Mills had come across McCracken and a companion in a thicket two days after a jailbreak at Bristol, Tenn.

McCracken broke out of the Tennessee State Penitentiary in October 1955.

THE MARKETS

New Regulations On Milk Shipped To Nearby States

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania dairymen were under notice by the State Agriculture Department today that the states of New Jersey and New York soon will accept only milk from herds free from brucellosis.

A department spokesman pointed out that new regulations going into effect in the two neighboring states are "a matter of economics that can't be underestimated." They accept approximately 25 percent of the milk produced in Pennsylvania.

New Jersey will put the regulation into effect April 1. New York's order becomes effective next Jan. 1.

Although Pennsylvania recently was certified as modified brucellosis free by the U.S. Agriculture Department, Howard A. Milo, director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Animal Industry, pointed out that this does not mean every herd owner can continue shipping his milk to New Jersey and New York.

Brucellosis is livestock disease.

Pittsburgh Police Are Praised by the Court

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Judge Samuel A. Weiss today congratulated Police Capt. Joseph Flynn and Pittsburgh homicide officers for their solution of the robbery-slaying of Mrs. Elizabeth Ensinger, 84, last fall.

Two men have been convicted of first degree murder with their juries recommending life imprisonment. Two other men have entered guilty pleas to a general charge of murder and are awaiting further court action.

"It is easy to criticize but when the opportunity presents itself, it is our duty to give proper credit where credit is due," Judge Weiss said. He credited the "diligent perseverance" of Flynn and his men and their round-the-clock work for five weeks with solving the case.

Population of the Philippines is 16,350,000.

Former Nazi Field Marshal Is Witness

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP)—Former Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring testified today that Germany made a last ditch effort on the Western Front in World War II so German soldiers could escape the Russians.

Kesselring, 72, was the last commander of the Western Front. He said by keeping his men fighting, hundreds of thousands of soldiers were able to flee the Russians and find safety in West Germany.

Kesselring testified at the German trial of Max Simon, an SS general accused of illegally executing the mayor and two villagers of Bretthelm during the closing, desperate days of the war.

Princess Margaret at Hamburg for a Visit

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Princess Margaret arrived by air today for a visit to two British army regiments. Sad-faced and pale, she mustered only a ghost of a smile at airport ceremonies.

The 27-year-old Margaret left London half an hour before her older sister, Queen Elizabeth II, returned from a state visit to the Netherlands. The Queen was away Wednesday when Margaret visited for three hours with Peter Townsend, the divorced man Margaret renounced as a suitor 2½ years ago.

Wearing a red velvet coat and a small brown hat, Margaret had none of her usual radiance when she was greeted at the airport here.

Eight-Year-Old Stages Variety of Offenses

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—An 8-year-old learned a boy just has to grow up for some things.

Juvenile officer Phillip York explained:

The boy found a half-filled wine bottle and drank it.

Then he found a half-smoked cigar and smoked it.

He walked into a variety store, grabbed a can of small change and started to run.

Then everything, including the store manager, caught up with him.

He got awfully, awfully sick.

And sore, too, after he was turned over to his mother.

Unemployment Claims Drop Seven Per Cent

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Bureau of Employment Security reported today that new claims for unemployment compensation dropped 7 per cent in Pennsylvania during the week ending March 21 from the previous week.

The decrease was the fourth consecutive week to show a decline in new claims.

The total of 40,592 new claims was the lowest weekly volume since November, the bureau said.

Continued claims for jobless benefits for the week totaled 325,465, which was one per cent decline from the previous week.

Dilworth Letter to Scott Causes Furore

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mayor Richardson Dilworth says he was surprised and somewhat disturbed to learn that a letter he wrote Rep. Hugh D. Scott congratulating him on being slated as the Republican candidate for U.S. senator was made public.

"I wrote a short personal letter to Scott sometime ago," Dilworth, a Democrat, said.

"I didn't expect he would publish it."

Dilworth said he wrote it by hand after Scott received the GOP nomination. "I knew how anxious he was for it," Dilworth explained. "It has been his aim for 20 years. We've been good friends. I like him. I think highly of him."

Rain Causes Shortage Of Florida Palm Leaves

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Florida's heavy winter rains are blamed for the short supply of palm leaves for the observance Sunday of Palm Sunday.

"We just couldn't fill all the orders," said E. P. Abney, who supplies much of the nation's palm leaves.

The leaves come from the heart of the tough and fibrous cabbage palm, which grows deep in the Everglades.

Only Seminole Indians will brave the stagnant water, snakes and other wild life to reach the palms, cut them and bring them out.

Heavy rains since Christmas killed the Indians much of the time and caused high water in the Everglades during the normally dry season.

Reuther Back on Stand Second Time Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter Reuther agreed with Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) today that organized labor should make concrete recommendations for legislation to curb union corruption.

"I agree we ultimately must get out of the area of noble generalizations," Reuther told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

This was Reuther's second day of testimony at committee hearings into violence during the four-year strike by the United Auto Workers, headed by Reuther, at the Kohler Co., Wisconsin plumbing fixture firm.

Missing Diesel Engine Almost in Collision

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A missing diesel switching locomotive of the Pennsylvania Railroad turned up yesterday—right smack in front of an oncoming freight.

The crew of the Reading Co.'s freight stopped the train with only yards to spare.

It wasn't until the near accident that PRR found out it was missing one heavy-duty shifter from its assembly yards at Trainer, south of Chester.

Railroad detectives figure it had to be a railroad who moved the engine through the maze of switches. They haven't found who it was.

Special Meeting Held by Northern Area Directors

Tentative adoption of a budget for the 1958-1959 academic year was the main order of business during a special meeting of Northern Area Joint School Board held Wednesday.

This tentative budget was the product of numerous preliminary meetings various committees of the board had conducted during the preceding six-week period, and Wednesday evening's action paves the way for each of the member districts to develop its individual budget with the purpose of meeting its share of the joint system's expenses.

The budget calls for a total expenditure of $541,628.33 during the fiscal year from July 1, 1958 until June 30, 1959. Of this total, $216,615.00 will be spent for elementary schools, and $325,013.33 for secondary school. The high school amount provides for payment of $79,638.33 to the State Public School Building Authority as rent for the new high school building.

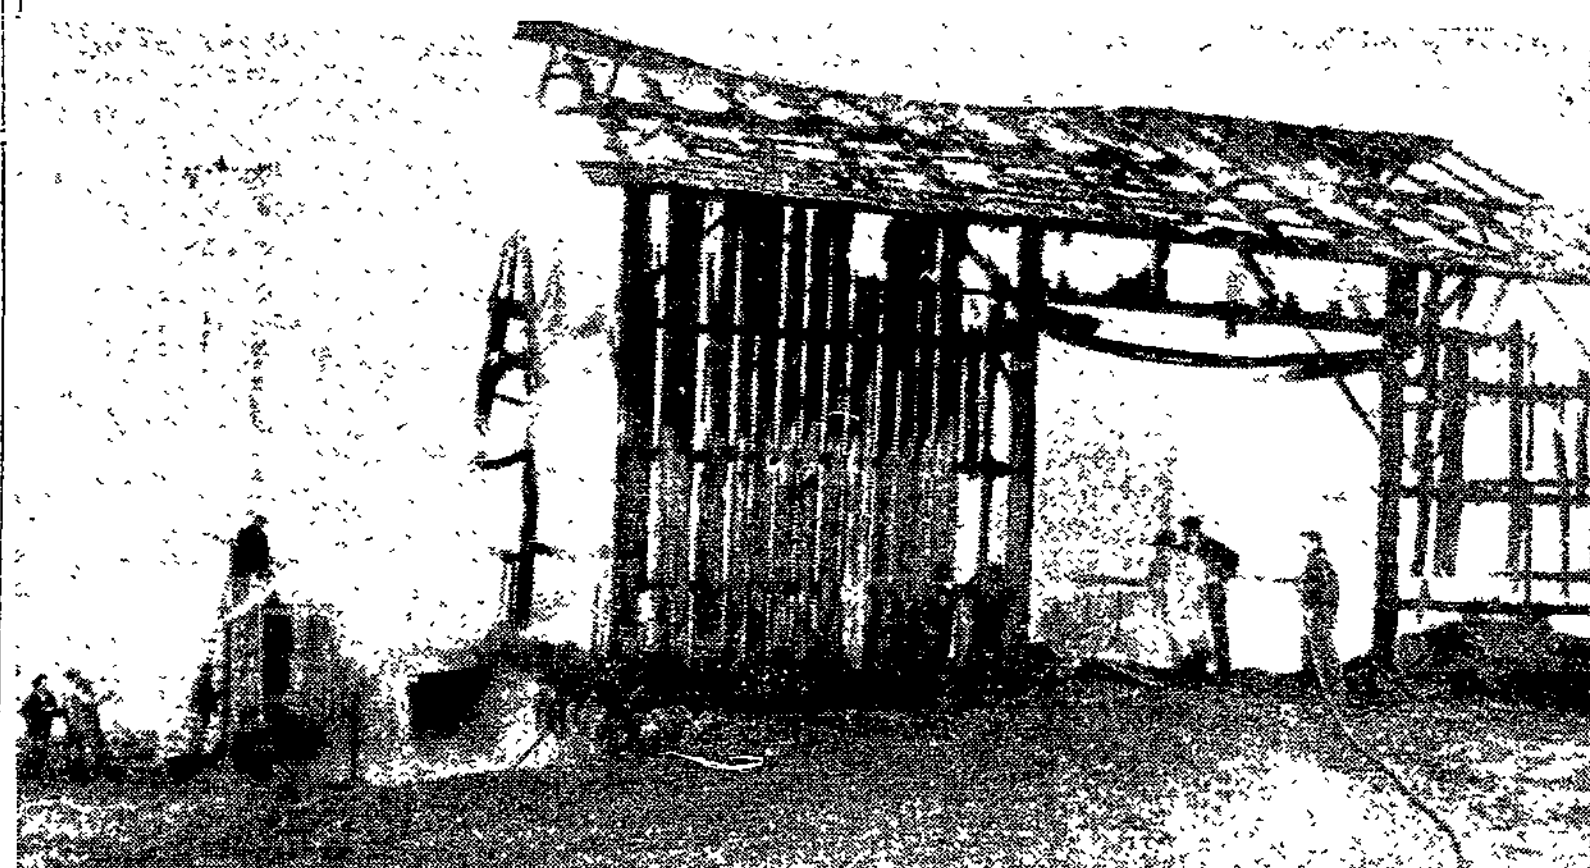

The proposed budget represents an increase of $38,000 over the current year, much of that sum made necessary by an expected increase in student load of 80, of which 50 will be in high school and 30 will be elementary pupils. Other items which make the increase necessary are the state-mandated salary increases and extensive repairs to buildings and apparatus necessary if elementary schools are to be able to accommodate the larger student loads.

A further study will be given to this budget when it will be finally adopted during the month of April.

Forum for Credit Union Officers To Be Held Saturday

In order to make sure officers of local credit unions are thoroughly familiar with all phases of credit union operation, educational informational classes for treasurers, directors, supervisory committeemen and credit committeemen will be held this Saturday afternoon starting at 2:00 o'clock and continuing until 6:00 p. m. in the social rooms of the Moose Lodge in Ridgway.

A turkey dinner served at 6:00 o'clock will be followed by the annual meeting and election of officers of the Allegheny Valley Chapter.

This will be followed by the area meeting of the Cuna Mutual Insurance Society, which is unique in that it is the only major insurance company that holds area meetings throughout the United States and Canada. Policyholders including personal and credit unions who would not be able to attend the biennial general election at the home office in Madison, Wis., may vote at area meeting. There will be 21 such area meetings held in Pennsylvania. Delegates attending Saturday's meeting are reminded to bring necessary voting certificates.

Over 70 officers have made reservations. Local credit unions represented include National Forge and Ordnance, Irvine; Warren State Hospital employees; United Refinery-Emblem Oil employees; Warren County school employees; Sylvania Corporation and Struthers-Wells employees. Officers from Bradford, Ridgway, Port Allegheny and other communities will be present.

Even Royalty Relies on the "Waker-Upper"

The every-morning shower is becoming known popularly as the "waker-upper"—and with good reason, for the primary purpose of this bath is to rouse your entire system out of its just-awakening dullness... To bring your senses quickly to life for the day's activities.

People everywhere are learning to depend on the stimulating tingle of the "waker-upper," each bather regulating the temperature to suit himself. Probably one of the best known devotees of this pre-breakfast necessity is the popular and energetic ruler of one of the world's foremost powers... What's more, this genial bachelor king usually takes his bath at the early hour of six a.m. (We mention this merely as information, not as a suggestion.)

If you doubt our declaration that a brisk morning shower makes you instantly alive for the day's program, why not test our assertion by taking one in the morning on arising... Then compare your before and after state of body and mind.

St. Joe Wins Sr. Church League Title

St. Joseph won the Senior League Church Basketball championship with a second straight win over First Baptist 56-50. The game was a thriller all the way with both teams holding small leads. Half-time score was 25-25. The game continued in this fashion until midway in the final quarter when the champs went ahead to stay.

Excellent defensive play on the part of St. Joe's was the deciding factor. Jack Colvin of the Baptists led all scorers with 22 and Pat Hartnett paced the winners with 17.

Joe Massa, Jr., coached the St. Joe team and Gerry Archibald piloted the Baptist team. Both these men and the other coaches of the church league teams are to be commended on the fine play of their teams during the season.

Officials of Grace Methodist, First Baptist, and First Methodist churches are also due for a big "Thank You" from the boys for allowing the use of their facilities for the success of the league.

Field Boss of Cubs Thinks He Has a Much Better Team

By BOB MYERS
MESA, Ariz. — If the Chicago Cubs can pick up in April where they left off last September, things may be brighter for the 1957 cellar dweller of the National League. So believes Bob Scheffing, starting his second year as field boss of the Bruins.

"We were a far better team in the second half of the season than we were given credit for and in the last two months we played better than .500 ball," said Scheffing.

And, he added, he feels his men will resume this brand of play when the season kicks off in mid-April.

On the happy side, the Cubs have an outstanding ball player in shortstop Ernie Banks, and at least two excellent young pitchers in Moe Drabowsky and Dick Drott.

He can expect good punch from such veterans as Dale Long, Lee Walls and Walt Moryn, as well as Banks, who walloped 43 home runs last year and led the club in that department for the third straight year.

There are several rookies whose fate must yet be decided, but Scheffing, owner P. K. Wrigley and the vice president triumvirate of John Holland, Charley Grimm and Clarence Rowland are optimistic over some of the prospects.

Included would be an infielder John Goryl, 24, who batted .301 with Memphis last year, and pitcher Geln Hobbie, 198-pound, 6-3 youngster who won 15 at Memphis. The Cubs thought highly of

Crawford Gets Chance Against Vet Gil Turner

NEW YORK — Young and clever Mickey Crawford, who says he can beat most of the leading welterweights, gets a chance to prove it tonight against veteran Gil Turner at Madison Square Garden.

Although he's stepping up in class, the 24-year-old prospect from Saginaw, Mich., is the 7-5 favorite over the 27-year-old, fourth-ranked contender from Philadelphia.

It's Crawford's debut as a Garden main event.

A pro only 24 years, the tall, fast-punching youngster has a 20-2 record. His victims include two former lightweight champions, Paddy DeMarco and Wallace (Bud) Smith.

He was defeated by Ralph Dupas, high-ranking lightweight from New Orleans, last Nov. 25. Since then Crawford, a commercial artist when he doesn't fight, has beaten Chico Vejar and Tex Gonzalez, a pair of middleweights.

Turner, a veteran of 72 fights represents a formidable obstacle for Crawford. Gil has fought most of the leading welters and middleweights, with better than fair results. His record is 55-16-1 including 35 knockouts.

Haverford Making First Bid For the State PIAA Crown

By JOE BRADIS

PHILADELPHIA — Haverford High School makes its first bid for the state PIAA basketball crown tomorrow night at Penn's Palestra against Altoona and if there ever was a cinderella team—this is it.

"I never dreamed of this," said Coach Steve Juenger today in reviewing his team's surprising showing. "They are the greatest bunch of kids I ever coached. Now if we can only win the big one."

Haverford finished runner-up to Chester in the Suburban I league with a 12-2 record. The only two losses were to Chester, both by close scores. Chester ended up with a 14-0 slate.

League officials felt that Haverford's showing merited consideration and allowed the Fords to play in the Class A eliminations. In the process Haverford belted Coatesville, Deliaas, Chester, Williamsport and finally York to gain the finals.

The big seige gun for Haverford this season has been Al Kaemmerlen, who, in 27 outings, of which Haverford has lost only 3, has scored 555 points. In five tournament games the 6-3 senior has amassed 112 points.

But Haverford isn't a one-man team. Dan George, 5-10; Ed MacIlmoyle, 5-10; Jack Juenger, 6-2, son of the coach, and Al (Buddy) Woolley complete the first team. All are seniors with the exception of MacIlmoyle, who is a junior.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

The Associated Press
The Boston Red Sox, bolstered by some excellent spring pitching performances, are "streaking" along atop the exhibition baseball standings.

With a 10-4 record, they've won their last five games. During that span Boston hurlers have allowed just 11 runs.

Willard Nixon, winning pitcher in the Red Sox streak-starter against the world champion Milwaukee Braves March 22, turned in another formidable showing yesterday as Boston edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1.

Nixon went the first five innings and received credit for the victory, although touched for the lone run. He yielded four hits and struck out five.

The Red Sox, held to four hits, capitalized on seven walks to squeeze out the triumph. Boston scored both runs in the opening inning off Danny McDevitt.

Herb Score was back in form as the Cleveland Indians broke a four-game losing streak with a 13-7 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. Bothered by a sprained ankle and a stiff shoulder most of the spring, Score cut loose and pitched four hitless and scoreless innings.

The Indians scored six runs in the eighth inning to break a 7-7 tie after they had jumped ahead with a seven-run fourth frame uprising.

The San Francisco Giants blanked the Baltimore Orioles 10-0, behind Andre Rodgers' pair of homers and Ramon Monzan's six scoreless innings. Willie Mays slammed his third circuit clout in two days.

Aided by Mickey Mantle's two-run triple, the New York Yankees tallied three times in the bottom of the ninth to shade Kansas City 5-4.

Motor Code Violators Are Warned Against Repeating

Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. in Quarter Sessions Court this morning warned three violators of the Pennsylvania Motor Vehicle Code that if they appeared before him on a recurrence of their offenses they faced prison sentences up to three years.

Observing that if the defendant enjoyed the protection of the law he should respect its regulatory aspects, Judge Flick ordered Donald E. Beardsley, 25, of RD 1, Spring Creek, to pay a fine of $100, costs and spend three days in jail for driving during a period of license suspension.

Trooper Henry Miller testified that Beardsley had been arrested March 13 and found to be without a license. He had apparently forgotten to apply for its reinstatement after it was suspended for 20 days about two years ago. The judge advised him to straighten out his license situation.

Also advised to straighten out his difficulties with the state motor bureau was Metro Fedorchuk of Youngsville who appeared on a similar charge and drew a similar sentence. He was apprehended March 15 by J. E. Chappel of Youngsville Police following an accident on West Main street.

Both men received credit for time already served.

Vernon Carlson, 21, of RD 2, Russell, was also meted $100 fine, costs and three days in jail for flicking out his tail lights in an attempt to avoid arrest. Conewango Township Officer Theodore Althouse said Carlson had a switch which turned out his taillights as the officer chased him for speeding. Discontinued was a charge of aggravated assault and battery against Josephine Voisin and James Winkelman. Judge Flick, observing that the charge had grown out of a family squabble, suggested some "common, ordinary decency" be used in the home in the future.

This afternoon, four juveniles who prated some meal tickets at Beauty School will appear in Juvenile Court along with their parents.

Motorist Tressler was fined $25 for allowing an unlicensed driver to operate his vehicle.

NAVY ENLISTEE

Accepted for a minority enlistment, Smith will be released from active duty the day before his 21st birthday. Following his boot training, he will be granted 14-day leave with family and friends. The recruiter advises "the Navy's enlistment is wide open and no waiting". The recruiting office is in the lobby of the Exchange Hotel.

MOTOR BOAT LICENSES

Information about motor boat licenses is contained in the following Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg: "Motor boat owners will have to use 1958 licenses made of paper until metal tags arrive in mid-April. Revenue Secretary Vincent G. Panati said 80,000 motor boat tags have not as yet arrived from the supplier, forcing the use of paper licenses when the 1957 plates expire March 31. Books of the paper tags have been mailed to the 124 agents throughout the state authorized to issue motor boat licenses. The license costs $1 per cylinder. Metal tags are available at Harrisburg, Panati said. As new supplies of them come they will be shipped out to distributing agents elsewhere in the state."

"Orpheus and Eurydice," Gluck's opera, is the oldest opera in the world. It was first performed in Vienna, 1762. It is still performed in most operatic repertoires.

Two Youngsville Students Granted Aid for Nursing

YOUNGVILLE—Official notification has been received this week that two Youngsville High School students, Nancy Stock, to be graduated this year, and Evelyn Plementosh, graduated in 1956, have been awarded financial assistance for nursing school by Corry Women of the Moose.

A committee headed by Mrs. Alfred Cone met with Edward Turchan, guidance counselor, and the girls, with the result that Miss Stock was awarded $75 and Miss Plementosh, $150. The school expresses its gratitude to the Corry Chapter WOTM, for this fine gesture.

Halgren-Wilcox American Legion Auxiliary met for a tureen luncheon Tuesday noon. The president, Mrs. Frank Rensma, presided at the business meeting when various committee reports were given. Mrs. James Lucas, chairman, reported 1345 coupons had been sent in this month for the Department Presidents' Project. The project this year is a gift to every veteran hospital, one to benefit every veteran. A collection was taken for The Crusade for Freedom; plans were discussed for the used clothing collection the week of April 13, and any one having clothing to contribute may call Mrs. Frank Rensma, 9-2832, for further information. Mrs. Lena Mourer gave an interesting report on Hansen's Disease, taken from the Star, a newspaper published by patients at Carrville Hospital.

The next meeting will be held at 8:00 p. m. April 8 in the Legion Home.

Youngsville Fish and Game Club is sponsoring a ham and grocery party from 9:00 until midnight Saturday.

Medical Mirror
WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT.
• Unlike Halves • Crossed Eyes
Q. Are both sides of the face exactly alike?
A. No, not exactly. The chances are you wouldn't recognize a picture of yourself made by joining the two left sides or two right sides of your face. But nature follows a pretty good pattern and rarely gets very far off balance. Only 120 cases of marked body disproportion or unlikeliness between halves have been reported in the world medical literature.
Is it normal for babies' eyes to cross?
A. Perhaps not normal but it frequently happens in very young babies. After a few months the eyes team-up in the "eyes front" position. If the eyes cross after six months, see your doctor. A cross-eyed child has little or no chance of "outgrowing" the condition.
Q. Children will sometimes playfully cross their eyes. Is there any danger of the eyes remaining crossed?
A. Not if the child has normal eyesight and eye muscles. The minute a normal person looks away from a near point the eyes straighten. The thing to remember is that children can have a wandering type of eye cross. You may think they are "playfully" crossing their eyes when actually they have a serious eye condition.
Material in MEDICAL MIRROR is based on various scientific publications and does not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease requires the skill and knowledge which only a physician can apply by personally attending the patient.

Soviet Scientists Believed Working on a Spectacular
By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
A mammoth Sputnik? ... A moon-high satellite? ... What's next in the heavenly cold war ... What does the Kremlin have up its sleeve in the Soviet space program?
Vague hints suggest Soviet scientists are working on something spectacular. There also are hints that Soviet politicians would like to tie the next venture to something new in the cold war: an offensive.
It's been almost five months since the Soviets launched their second artificial earth satellite, Sputnik II.
Perhaps the Soviets have been trying and failing with new launching attempts. Or perhaps they plan to time their new shoot for a propitious moment. Just in advance of a summit meeting, their next space venture would have enormous propaganda impact.
Speculation on Soviet plans runs all the way from manned devices or space platforms to "just another Sputnik."
It is even possible, say some Western scientists, that the Soviets might try to throw a Sputnik

There is an outside possibility the Soviets may try to send up a space platform — a sort of intermediate station for moon flights. There is no serious speculation about space ships in the sense of craft capable of carrying human beings to the moon, but an attempt to send up a manned rocket cannot be ruled out.
On the political side, the Soviets seem to be preparing for a heavenly cold war. There are indications they plan spectacular proposals such as international control of outer space and even of the moon.
